

Every Child Matters

Every day that John A. Macdonald's name appears on a feature of this city, with no factual historical context to explain his genocidal policies and practices, it continues to insult, if not traumatize Residential School Survivors, their families, and Nations.

“When the school is on the reserve, the child lives with its parents, who are savages, and though he may learn to read and write, his habits and training mode of thought are Indian. He is simply a savage who can read and write. It has been strongly impressed upon myself, as head of the Department, that Indian children should be withdrawn as much as possible from the parental influence, and the only way to do that would be to put them in central training industrial schools where they will acquire the habits and modes of thought of white men.”

-Sir John A. Macdonald
